

All the Children

in the world!

Yellow, black or dark
I have got a colour every go where Even the flowers
which smell so beautiful, do not have one colour and one look.

Within my mummy's arm
I got milk and learned to talk
Even the birds up the hill do not sing the same song

Like a flower, like bird
Like any creature on this earth
My heart desires
Some love, some joy.

I open arms and my heart
For all the children in the world!
Come on, brothers and sisters
Let's get together to make
The world shine like Sunrise!
